Items of Concern and Interest to Participants and Parents/Guardians

- Clothing – Students need to comply with the dress code used by their school districts. No flip flops or sandals will be allowed in the labs. Students can expect cool classrooms. Bring swim wear and work-out clothes for the recreation center.
- Laundry: Laundry facilities are available in the residence halls. Washers cost $.75 per load and dryers $.50 per load. A laundry card must be purchased to use the laundry facilities. The cards may be purchased with a minimum of $5.00.
- Rooms: Students will be staying in a community bath residence on campus. Separate sides of the residence hall are provided for male and female students. The residence hall is air-conditioned, complete with a lounge suitable for relaxing and small-group discussions.
- Telephone Service: Phone service is available for students to use, however long-distance is not provided. Each room is equipped with a telephone line. Students need to bring their own telephone to plug into the line if they want a phone in their room. We recommend sending a calling card if you wish your student to call home.
- Personal Items: Students will want to bring toothpaste, toothbrush, bath soap, laundry soap, personal hygiene items, hangers, beach towel, alarm clock, and suntan lotion. Additionally, each student must bring a pillow, twin sheets, a blanket, and towels. All personal items of value should be labeled with the student's name, address, and telephone number. Insurance and records (make, model, and serial number) are a recommended precaution as the Infinity Institute and Project STEEM are not liable for loss, theft, or damage to personal belongings.
- Supervision: Two counselors (1 male and 1 female) will reside in the residence hall with the students. Counselors and faculty will be present at all of the program's activities.
